

Nancijane Carolipio's Biography

Nancijane Carolipio serves the Office of Health Equity as the Quality Improvement Analyst. She started her State career in 2018 with the Center for Family Health at the California Department of Public Health. At the Center for Family Health, she gained extensive experience supporting the Deputy Director and Assistant Deputy Director. During her time with the Maternal, Child and Adolescent Health (MCAH) Division in the Center for Family Health, she served as the Senior Administrative and Organizational Improvement Project Manager where she led and managed various complex projects aimed at improving various business processes within the Division. She served as the lead coordinator in implementing a new federal funding requirement, the Home Visiting Budget Assistant Tool for the MCAH California Home Visiting Program. As part of the Administrative and Business Services team, she also provided guidance and technical assistance to all Division Support Staff in carrying out procurement activities.

Nancijane received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology with a minor in Education Studies from the University of California, Los Angeles and her Master of Arts degree in Education from the University of California, Riverside. While working for the State, and since moving back from Southern California, she enjoys spending time with her family and friends, finding delicious food wherever she goes, shopping for deals, and traveling whenever she gets the chance.